

Asmara cost savings

Asmara cost savings

The median after-tax salary is $397, which is enough to cover living expenses for 0.8 months. Ranked 8376th (TOP 90%) in the list of best places to live in the world and 1st best city to live in Eritrea. With an estimated population of 963K, Asmara is the 1st largest city in Eritrea.

Why living in Asmara is so expensive? Because we have a developed country lifestyle as a reference and in some least developed countries maintaining such a standard of living is hard and expensive. Thus, living costs in Asmara for locals and expats differ significantly.

Livingcost is a crowdsourced database with a cost of living calculator for prices comparison in 9294 cities in 197 countries all over the world. The cost of living calculated as a consumer basket for a moderate lifestyle in developed countries and thus might seem too high for some least developed countries where maintaining such a standard of living is expensive.

If you are planning to move or travel to Asmara, the capital city of Eritrea, one of the key factors to consider is its cost of living. In this guide, we will provide you with valuable insights into the typical cost of living in Asmara, including the prices of basic necessities such as accommodation, food, transportation, and entertainment.

The cost of food in Asmara is relatively affordable, and you can get a decent meal for around 100-150 ERN (5-8 USD) in most local restaurants. However, some of the high-end restaurants can charge up to 500 ERN (25 USD) for a meal. If you prefer cooking your meals, you can buy groceries from local markets, where prices are relatively cheap. A kilo of rice costs around 20-30 ERN (1-2 USD), a kilo of chicken costs around 70-80 ERN (4-5 USD), and a loaf of bread costs around 10-15 ERN (less than 1 USD).

Getting around Asmara is relatively easy and affordable, with taxis being the most common form of transportation. A typical taxi ride within the city center costs around 30-40 ERN (less than 2 USD). The price increases if you are traveling to the suburbs, with fares ranging between 50-100 ERN (3-5 USD) per ride. You can also opt for public transportation, which is even cheaper, with bus fares starting at 2 ERN (less than 1 USD) per ride.

Asmara offers a range of entertainment options, including cinemas and nightclubs. The average cost of a movie ticket is around 70-100 ERN (4-5 USD), while nightclubs charge an entrance fee of around 100-200 ERN (5-10 USD) per person. In most bars and restaurants, you can expect to pay around 30-50 ERN (less than 3 USD) for a bottle of beer.

Based on the above figures, the cost of living in Asmara is relatively affordable compared to other cities in Africa. A typical person can live comfortably on a budget of around 7,000-10,000 ERN (350-500 USD) per month, excluding the cost of accommodation, which is usually the most significant expense. However, the cost of living in Asmara can be significantly higher if you opt for high-end accommodation and entertainment options.

Asmara cost savings

In conclusion, Asmara is an affordable city to live in, with a low cost of living, particularly for basic necessities such as food and transportation. With this guide, you now have a better understanding of the typical cost of living in Asmara, which will help you make informed decisions about your travel or relocation plans.

Asmara, the capital city of Eritrea, is a beautiful and vibrant city that offers tourists a unique blend of Italian colonial architecture, East African charm, and a rich cultural heritage. While the cost of living in Asmara may be higher than other destinations in East Africa, it is definitely worth the expense. In this comprehensive guide, we'll explore the city's local attractions, dining spots, cultural experiences, local history, and off-the-beaten-path suggestions.

Asmara is a city that is steeped in history and culture, and there is no shortage of fascinating attractions to explore. Some of the most popular places to visit include:

• The Asmara Grand Mosque: This stunning mosque was built in the 1930s and is one of the largest in Africa. Visitors can admire the intricate architecture and intricate carvings that adorn the building's facade.

Contact us for free full report

Web: <https://www.hollanddutchtraveltours.nl/contact-us/>

Email: energystorage2000@gmail.com

WhatsApp: 8613816583346

