It's called Course Finder, and it delivers exactly what the name promises: a comprehensive and user-friendly database of virtually every golf course in America, plus many more designs internationally, all searchable not only by name, city and zip code but also by access type (public, private, muni, etc.); style (regulation, par-3, executive, etc.); and fee range (from $ to $$$$). Partial to the work of, say, Gil Hanse, Tom Doak or Perry Maxwell? There's even a filter by which you can search courses by their designers.

Course Finder's filtering options also include GOLF's Top 100 Course rankings (five rankings in all), plus five other "best of" lists, ranging from Top Munis to Top Par-3 Courses. You also can drill down to our course raters' nominations for the best courses in every state. For added convenience, search results are plotted on a map so you can easily see courses' locations relative to your search area.

Want to learn more about a specific design? Every course has a profile page that includes a course description, par and yardage, grass types, and even whether the course is walkable and has practice facilities. For many public courses, you also have the ability to book tee times directly from the profile pages.

On a budget? Under the "Max Fee" menu, select the "$$" option. That search will return all of the courses in the area that won't strain your wallet, including such excellent offerings at TPC Harding Park and the par-3 course at Golden Gate Park. Maybe, as you browse the courses dotted on the map, you'll feel inspired to shoot two hours down the coast to play the charming seaside muni, Pacific Grove.

Located in Atlanta, Georgia, Bobby Jones Golf Course is more than just a revolutionary golf course design, it's also home to the Grand Slam Golf Academy, the Murray Golf House, Boone's restaurant, the Cupp Links, and the Dan Yates Putting Course! It's a "must-visit" in Atlanta!

Unable to find the time you are looking for? We are excited to announce the launch of our Virtual Tee Time Assistant, which notifies you via text and email when your desired tee time becomes available.
