Honeywell energy management system

The journey to net zero can be difficult without the right guide. Honeywell has decades of experience and the technical know-how to help take you where you need to go. We deliver unparalleled capabilities in emissions management and measurement, energy optimization, carbon capture, renewable fuels, energy storage and smart microgrids.

Download our whitepaper to learn how continuous monitoring of emissions from greenhouse gases, like methane, can help upstream oil and gas facilities take steps to reduce their environmental impact.

Improving operational efficiency requires a multi-layered approach that touches every element of your operation. Honeywell technology can help you boost performance with advanced capabilities you can use to integrate operations and control, optimize and automate complex processes.

A predictive maintenance approach uses near real-time data to help improve plant uptime, extend an asset's useful life and enhance safety and environmental performance. With predictive analytics and a unified asset management platform from Honeywell, you can identify and address issues before they disrupt your operations.

Building automation solutions can help you manage utility costs, improve resilience, enhance operational efficiency and create a safer, healthier, more productive and more comfortable experience for building occupants.

To improve your cybersecurity defenses, you need to be aware of and able to monitor all the assets on your operational technology network in real time. Honeywell can help you assess vulnerabilities, detect intrusion attempts quickly and efficiently, isolate malware, mitigate network damage and restore normal operations.

At Honeywell, safety is paramount. Our PPE solutions help safeguard your workforce in critical environments. From respiratory gear and fall protection systems to advanced gas detection technology, fire and life safety products, and environmental health and safety software, we provide comprehensive protection to help ensure everyone stays safe.
